

An engineer by education, he resigned from his job at an Information Technology MNC, to contribute in Delhi government to the Dy. CM & Education Minister Sh. Manish Sisodia as his media advisor since 2016.

He has been working on building a discourse on the internet around education reforms in Delhi. His prime objective has been to bring more and more educationists, parents and children to talk about the need and role of quality education for every citizen.